

ANOTHER PATH TO PRODIGY WEEK PRODIGY SEARCH COMMITTEE

For placing among the top 500 in Prodigy Racing League™ virtual racing tournaments, you are eligible to be selected by the Prodigy Search Committee, earning a Prodigy Pass™ to attend Prodigy Week™. Here is what to know:

There are two paths to train and compete at a Prodigy Week, and have the opportunity to earn a paid racing contract; they are:

Automatic selections:

Win one of the Prodigy Racing League virtual racing tournaments, and you're in.

At-large Prodigy Search Committee Selections:

We know there will be prodigies who don't win a PRL tournament, so we have assembled a Prodigy Search Committee to help us discover and select additional racing prodigies to be awarded with Prodigy Passes. For those who place in the top 500 of a PRL tournament, you may submit a video sharing why you are deserving of a Prodigy Pass, as well as answers to a questionnaire e-mailed to you. The first Prodigy Search Committee awarded a Prodigy Pass to a deserving racer from PRL Tournaments 1 & 2. The second awarded from Tournament 3, and the third from Tournaments 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Your video:

- One-minute maximum. Think of this video like your elevator pitch.
- Focus on the information you share, and how you deliver it, rather than a beautiful setting for your location or cinematic quality.
- We recommend you record using a mobile device or a digital camera, sitting in your sim racing chair, office, or garage.
- Ensure a clean and non-distracting background, as well as your apparel.
- Upload your video to YouTube as "unlisted."
- Provide the link to your video for your answer to the last question in our survey.
- Submit your answers to our survey (e-mailed to you) by the deadline.

The Racing Prodigy team will select up to 10 finalists from each group/tournament, sharing the submissions with the Prodigy Search Committee, which will reveal its selection for a Prodigy Pass, live on the Selection Show on Racing Prodigy's YouTube channel typically near the end of each month.

Each month, we plan to form a new committee to review up to 10 finalists from each PRL racing tournament that concluded the previous month (the exception: Tournaments that conclude October 2023 will be included with the tournaments that conclude in September 2023. Rather than one Prodigy Pass to be issued, the Selection Committee will award two Prodigy Passes).

SURVEY QUESTIONS

If you're a racing prodigy, but you don't win a PRL sim racing tournament, this is how you could be discovered.

If eligible, you will receive an e-mail and be asked to submit answers directly into a provided survey. Having the questions available to review allows you to prepare answers and work on your video for submission before the deadline.

General Info Questions:

- Name
- Date of Birth
- Game ID# or Username
- What country do you live in?

Real-World Driving/Logistics Questions:

- If under 18, do you have parental permission to attend Prodigy Week?
- Do you have a valid driver's license? If not, will you by Prodigy Week?
- If outside the U.S., do you have a valid passport? If not, will you have one by Prodigy Week?
- Do you currently have a racing license? If so, detail:
 - o What sanctioning body?
 - o Member since & Expiration dates
 - o Region (if applicable)
 - o License level (this varies between sanctioning bodies)

Gaming, Behavior, and Usage Questions:

- How long have you been sim and/or mobile racing?
- This year, how many hours per week, on average, have you spent sim/mobile racing?
- Which device did you use to set your best time while competing?
- If you used wheel and pedals for your best lap in competition, which wheel, pedals, and cockpit did you use?
- Describe your outdoor racing experience in a kart, road car on a race circuit, or race car. (max 250 words)
- If you exercise weekly, please describe your routine. (max 100 words)